Mission & Purpose

DEPAUL UNIVERSITY
Founded by the Vincentian Fathers in 1898, DePaul University has grown over the years from a small institution with a limited curriculum to a comprehensive university including nine schools and colleges that offer a wide range of academic and professional programs for a student body of more than 25,000. Despite its growth and stature as the nations largest Catholic university, DePaul remains committed to maintaining its values-centered, urban character as well as serving individuals from a broad range of professional, cultural, ethnic and religious backgrounds. Indeed, in and through all of its programs of study, DePaul University seeks to: foster through higher education a deep respect for the dignity of all people and to instill in its students a dedication to the service of others. See also http://www.depaul.edu/about/Pages/history-and-mission.aspx

SCHOOL FOR NEW LEARNING (SNL)
The School for New Learning, established in 1972 as one of the schools and colleges of DePaul University, exists to foster, develop and certify the knowledge and abilities of adults and to prepare them to be self-managed, lifelong learners as they pursue a vision of a better world. To this end, the school offers competence-based degree programs and learning experiences that emphasize the application of what is learned in ways that are meaningful to adults. Further, SNL practices continuous program evaluation and enhancement and scholarly investigation to ensure that its curricular programs meet the challenges of change in a contemporary society. See also http://snl.depaul.edu.

SNL GRADUATE PROGRAMS
Each of the School for New Learnings three graduate programs (MA in Applied Professional Studies; MA in Educating Adults; and, MS in Applied Technology) seeks to enable adult professionals to expand their knowledge and skills with respect to their areas of study while enhancing the related competency and competitiveness of their contributions. In so doing, each program incorporates the following key elements:

(a) sustained inquiry regarding a particular focus—incorporating, and resulting in, analysis, synthesis and accountability;
(b) reasoning through rather than reacting to;
(c) analyzing and synthesizing rather than describing;
(d) using primary sources alongside secondary ones;
(e) learning actively rather than passively;
(f) handling multiplicity and complexity rather than being single-minded and simplistic;
(g) bridging the artificial gulf between ideas and practice to engage ideas-for-practice;
(h) understanding and using frameworks to interpret behaviors and experiences; recognizing how frameworks interact;
(i) engaging in reflective learning & behaving in as well as on practice (able to stand back, make decisions, connect concepts that underpin a skill or practice and evaluate both ones learning and ones performing/contributing);
(j) trying out theory in practice leading to deeper understanding and/or new forms of knowledge;
(k) abstracting meaning from experience(s); understanding how one's knowledge is shaped by one's experiences; and,
(i) respecting the authority of systemic observation and evaluated experience.
Graduate Program & Courses

Master of Arts in Applied Professional Studies (MAAPS)

The Master of Arts Program in Applied Professional Studies (MAAPS), founded in 1984, serves adults who wish to design and execute their graduate study in a personally-relevant area that is otherwise not served by typical course-based, already-structured programs. These entrepreneurial learners come with a personal/professional area of study they want to pursue, a desire to build and manage their own learning processes, and a goal to both learn and shape their learning into contributions that make a difference.

KEY FEATURES
1. You design your own area of study (an area of professional contribution in a particular setting) guided by a graduate framework. Your idea; your design.
2. You learn to think in terms of learning for both intentional outcomes and timely applications.
3. You build a plan for learning that incorporates an array of learning strategies (not just classes!) strategies that fit your sought outcomes and learning preferences and result in products you can use.
4. You manage the pace, place and process of implementing your plan.
5. You receive assistance from a team of advisors from the University as well as your own particular professional community.
6. You engage in a brief/intensive series of liberal learning seminars designed to rekindle and/or deepen your practice in areas of inquiry, change, interpersonal communication, diversity, ethical reasoning and leadership.
7. You accomplish your goal of graduate study focusing on an area of importance to you and earning an accredited graduate degree with competencies endorsed by the University.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS
1. A minimum of 52 graduate credit hours completed with a cumulative GPA of not less than 3.0.
2. Successful completion of Planning & Integration coursework.
   - AP-501 Learning Plan Research and Development Seminar
   - AP-502 Learning Plan Review
   - AP-528 Assessment & Integration I
   - AP-548 Assessment & Integration II
   - AP-558 Assessment & Integration III
   - AP-578 Assessment & Integration IV
3. Successful completion of Liberal Learning coursework.
   - LLS-425 Exploring Modes & Processes of Systematic Inquiry
   - LLS-435 Understanding Personal and Organizational Change
   - LLS-445 Improving Interpersonal Dynamics
   - LLS-455 Valuing Human Differences
   - LLS-465 Engaging Ethical Reasoning
   - LLS-475 Exercising Effective Leadership
4. Successful completion of Individualized Learning Strategies (designed and executed by you given your graduate area of study and learning preferences). These strategies (classes, independent studies, work projects, etc.) are engaged to enhance your understanding and competence development in relation to each of the following aspects of your individually-tailored area of focus.
   - AP-510 Theories, Models, Ideas
   - AP-520 Methods of Research
   - AP-530 Specialized Skills
   - AP-540 Communication Modes
   - AP-550 Organizational/Interpersonal Dynamics
   - AP-560 Challenges from Larger Contexts
   - AP-570 Ethical Issues
   - AP-574 Reflection in/on Practice
   - AP-585 Supplemental (elective)
5. Successful completion of individualized program culmination (designed and executed by you given your graduate area of focus and learning preferences). Toward the end of your program, you choose one of two approaches to complete your graduate study.
   - AP-586, AP-587, AP-588 & AP-589 Supplementals (electives) -or- AP-591 & AP-592 Integrating Major Project

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS
Planning & Integration
AP-501 (4 cr hrs) Learning Plan Research and Development (LPRD)
The LPRD Seminar explores the aims of graduate education with particular focus on the program of study leading to the MA in Applied Professional Studies' purpose, scope, philosophy, key roles and processes. Special emphasis is placed on developing a working draft of the Graduate Learning Plan for the individualized portion of the Program (i.e., the Focus Area), attaining a fuller understanding of individual fields of professional study, and applying Liberal
Learning Skills in professional practice. In addition, the process is initiated for establish each students guidance committee (Academic Committee) consisting of the Student, the Faculty Mentor and a Professional Advisor (i.e., an established practitioner in the students professional Focus Area).

AP-502 (2 cr hrs) u Learning Plan Review (LPR) (2 cr hrs)

During the LPR, students finalize their Learning Plans, convene their Academic Committees (comprised of themselves, their Professional Advisors and their Faculty Mentors) to review their Learning Plans. Once approved by ones Academic Committee, the Learning Plan is submitted to the Graduate Student Program Review Committee for final approval and endorsement. Thereafter, the student is at liberty to begin to implement the approved plan.

AP-528, AP-548, AP-558 and AP-578 (0.5 cr hrs each) u Assessment & Integration Sessions I, II, III & IV

On four occasions interspersed through the program, students meet with their Faculty Mentors for purposes of ongoing assessment and integration regarding all aspects of the program. Prior to each session, the Faculty Mentor informs students regarding the agenda for the upcoming session, its assignment and the criteria for assessment by which the assignment and session participation will be evaluated.

Liberal Learning

LLS-425 (3 cr hrs) u Exploring Modes and Processes of Systematic Inquiry

This seminar provides students with an opportunity to develop the Liberal Learning Skills through exploring modes and processes of systematic inquiry. Students develop researchable questions and use these questions to gather and critically evaluate information and identify appropriate research methodologies. In addition, students practice searching, managing and analyzing information sources and building integrative literature reviews.

LLS-435 (3 cr hrs) u Understanding Personal & Organizational Change

This seminar provides students with an opportunity to develop the Liberal Learning Skills through understanding personal and organizational change. Multiple dimensions and dynamics of change and the roles and responsibilities of professionals as change agents are explored. Special emphasis is placed on analyzing change processes using both linear and systems models and formulating interventions to facilitate productive change in professional settings.

LLS-445 (3 cr hrs) u Improving Interpersonal Dynamics

This seminar provides students with an opportunity to develop the Liberal Learning Skills through improving interpersonal dynamics. Students are introduced to various models for working collaboratively with diverse constituents over multiple contexts. In addition, students are provided opportunities to strengthen their interpersonal relations and communication skills (per context) by learning and practicing strategies and techniques that foster skill development.

LLS-455 (3 cr hrs) u Valuing Human Differences

This seminar provides students with an opportunity to develop the Liberal Learning Skills through valuing human differences. The origins, dynamics and costs of prejudice and other barriers that interfere with respectful pluralism are explored in relation to the increasing diversity of todays world. In addition, students are provided with opportunities to gain a deeper understanding of individual prejudices and develop personal and professional appreciation for human diversity.

LLS-465 (3 cr hrs) u Engaging Ethical Reasoning

This seminar provides students with an opportunity to develop the Liberal Learning Skills through engaging ethical reasoning. Ethical decision-making frameworks and the impact of ethical issues within professional contexts are explored. In addition, students are provided with opportunities to design a personal model of ethical decision-making for application within various contexts.

LLS-475 (3 cr hrs) u Exercising Effective Leadership

This seminar provides students with an opportunity to develop the Liberal Learning Skills through exercising effective leadership. Key theories and principles relative to the management/leadership continuum are examined as well as implications of current trends in leading self and others in a changing world.

Professional Area of Focus (Individualized per student)

Fundamental to the design of the MAAPS program is the premise that learning happens in many ways not solely via courses. Consequently, instead of fixing the means (lectures, courses, etc.), the MAAPS Program fixes the ends (learning outcomes) thereby allowing the means to vary (student by student) as each individual student designs and proposes the most effective and efficient means for him/her to achieve the sought outcome. The following areas are then NOT courses per se (or are not necessarily courses). They are areas for learning and eventual demonstration of learningareas that each student addresses and executes in terms of building his/her own learning activity or set of activities to achieve a designated sought outcome. Such learning activities MAY include courses from other graduate programs at DePaul or elsewhere; however, they may also include independent studies, work projects, certification programs, etc.

AP-510 (2 cr hrs) Ability to understand the main theories that guide and explain practice in ones Focus Area.

AP-520 (2 cr hrs ) Ability to understand methods of research appropriate to ones Focus Area.

AP-530 (2 cr hrs) Ability to apply specialized skills appropriate to ones Focus Area.

AP-540 (2 cr hrs) Ability to engage communication modes appropriate to ones Focus Area.

AP-550 (2 cr hrs) Ability to understand the organizational and/or interpersonal dynamics within which practitioners in ones Focus Area define and fulfill their roles/responsibilities.

AP-560 (2 cr hrs) Ability to interpret challenges from larger contexts (e.g., temporal, social or international) facing ones Focus Area.

AP-570 (2 cr hrs) Ability to analyze ethical issues involved within ones Focus Area.

AP-574 (2 cr hrs) Ability to engage reflection in/on practice within ones Focus Area.

AP-585 (2 cr hrs) Supplemental (elective)

Culmination (8 cr hrs) Four additional supplements (electives) or Integrating Major Project

School for New Learning - Graduate Studies ▼ Graduate Program & Courses ▼ Master of Arts in Educating Adults (MAEA)

Master of Arts in Educating Adults (MAEA)

The Master of Arts Program in Educating Adults (MAEA), founded in 2006, is designed for people who, working formally or informally in diverse settings, support the process and practice of adults learning. Grounded in key theories, current research and best practices in adult education and learning, the program provides a learning laboratory for learners to build and deepen their knowledge and skills in assessment, design, facilitation, evaluation and ongoing research to improve practice.

KEY FEATURES
1. You design and expand your knowledge of key theories and best practices in adult learning, including the latest in instructional technology, course design, learning facilitation, internet-based practices and emerging trends.
2. You further develop competencies as an adult educator and expand your repertoire of core and cutting-edge knowledge and skills.
3. You study with other adult educators in a collaborative learning environment.
4. You customize portions of your study to match your individual learning needs and goals and carry out an applied project that contributes to adults learning in your particular area of practice.
5. You receive assistance from a team of advisors from the University who provide coaching and mentoring to ensure your success.
6. You engage in a brief/intensive series of liberal learning seminars designed to rekindle and/or deepen your practice in areas of inquiry, change, interpersonal communication, diversity, ethical reasoning and leadership.
7. You accomplish your goal of graduate study by enhancing your contribution as an educator of adults and earning an accredited graduate degree with competencies endorsed by the University.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS
1. A minimum of 57 graduate credit hours completed with a cumulative GPA of not less than 3.0.
2. Successful completion of Professional Core coursework & project.
   - EA-515 Developing Professional Identity
   - EA-516 Designing Educational Offerings
   - EA-517 Facilitating Adult Learning
   - EA-518 Enhancing Practice with Theory in Adult Learning
   - EA-525 Conducting Practice-based Inquiry
   - EA-526 Assessing Learning and Evaluating Programs
   + electives
   - EA-507 Applied Inquiry Project Proposal I
   - EA-508 Applied Inquiry Project Proposal II
   - EA-528 Applied Inquiry Project
3. Successful completion of Liberal Learning coursework.
   - EA-527 Finding and Managing Information
   - LLS-435 Understanding Personal and Organizational Change
   - LLS-445 Improving Interpersonal Dynamics
   - LLS-455 Valuing Human Differences
   - LLS-465 Engaging Ethical Reasoning
   - LLS-475 Exercising Effective Leadership
4. Successful completion of Reflective Practice coursework.
   - EA-535 Reflective Practice I
   - EA-536 Reflective Practice II
   - EA-537 Reflective Practice III
   - EA-538 Reflective Practice IV

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS
Professional Core
EA-515 (4 cr hrs) Developing Professional Identity (DPI)
In this cornerstone course, participants examine aspects of their identity as practitioners involved in educating adults. Their individual profiles, experiences, characteristics, philosophies, competencies, goals and aspirations are explored within the larger context of adult learning/adult education. Participants arrive at a clear platform (identity stance) from which to carry out their practice of educating adults in varied settings. Participants create their own credos and action plans for further study in the program, including intersections with the liberal learning seminars and skills. Emphasis is also placed on expanding participants professional networks in their area(s) of practice.

EA-516 (4 cr hrs) Designing Educational Offerings (DEO)
This course builds participants competence in the major components of designing educational offerings for adult learners in various settings, including on-line and technology-based. The emphasis is on designing for learning outcomes and assessment. Relevant theories, concepts and principles of adult learning that inform design approaches and practices are considered. Participants develop (or revise) an educational offering appropriate to their selected adult clientele.

EA-517 (4 cr hrs) Facilitating Adult Learning (FAL)
This course expands participants repertoire of effective facilitation of adults learning in various settings. It emphasizes adult learner-centered strategies and techniques for instruction, interpreting group interactions and working with individuals in both in-person and distance education environments. This course intersects with course design, learning outcomes and assessment processes elements of which are addressed in EA-616 & EA-526.

EA-518 (4 cr hrs) Enhancing Practice with Theory in Adult Learning (EPTAL)
This course grounds participants areas of practice with deeper examinations of relevant theories, models and principles of adult learning and development. Participants investigate various strands of research and theory that support, challenge and enhance their practices in working with adult learners in their selected settings. Participants share their investigations thereby enhancing each others theoretical foundations.

EA-525 (4 cr hrs) Conducting Practice-based Inquiry (CPBI)
This course builds participants competence in practicing a repertoire of formal and informal inquiry processes. Participants explore a range of research methodologies and identify those most relevant to their practice environments. Participants gain further skills in defining research problems and questions, conducting literature reviews, creating research designs, citing sources and protecting human subjects in research. This course helps lay the groundwork for the Applied Inquiry Proposal & Project.

EA-526 (4 cr hrs) Assessing Learning and Evaluating Programs (ALEP)
This course expands participants knowledge base in approaches, strategies and tools for assessing learning outcomes of individuals and for evaluating programs intended to meet learners needs. Participants develop criteria for selecting and assessing and evaluation models relevant to their practice environments. They also gain skills in designing assessment and evaluation instruments. This course builds on the design principles explored in EA-516.

EA-507 & EA-508 (1 cr hr each) Applied Inquiry Proposal (I & II)
Each participant designs his/her Applied Inquiry Project in consultation with the faculty mentor and a project advisor. Proposal I emphasizes selecting a project topic/focus and conducting a literature review. Proposal II emphasizes the purpose and design of the inquiry project and audience(s) for dissemination.

EA-528 (4 cr hrs) Applied Inquiry Project
In consultation with the faculty mentor and a project advisor, each participant designs and accomplishes a project that addresses a significant question/issue in the participants area of practice. Knowledge and skills gained in EA-525 are implemented with the aim of enhancing practice informed by relevant frameworks and ideas.

Electives (8 cr hrs)
Participants choose electives (courses, independent studies and/or demonstrations of learning from prior experience) in specific areas of relevance to their practices as adult educators

Liberal Learning

EA-527 (2 cr hrs) Finding and Managing Information
This foundational course provides participants with skills in collecting, analyzing and synthesizing literature and resources in their respective area(s) of practice. Among these skills are: searching and accessing various sources; discerning credibility of sources; discerning credibility of courses; storing and retrieving information for oneself; constructing thematic literature reviews; and, citing sources using APA style

LLS-435 (3 cr hrs) Understanding Personal & Organizational Change
This seminar provides students with an opportunity to develop the Liberal Learning Skills through understanding personal and organizational change. Multiple dimensions and dynamics of change and the roles and responsibilities of professionals as change agents are explored. Special emphasis is placed on analyzing change processes using both linear and systems models and formulating interventions to facilitate productive change in professional settings.

LLS-445 (3 cr hrs) Improving Interpersonal Dynamics
This seminar provides students with an opportunity to develop the Liberal Learning Skills through improving interpersonal dynamics. Students are introduced to various models for working collaboratively with diverse constituents over multiple contexts. In addition, students are provided opportunities to strengthen their interpersonal relations and communication skills (per context) by learning and practicing strategies and techniques that foster skill development.

LLS-455 (3 cr hrs) Valuing Human Differences
This seminar provides students with an opportunity to develop the Liberal Learning Skills through valuing human differences. The origins, dynamics and costs of prejudice and other barriers that interfere with respectful pluralism are explored in relation to the increasing diversity of today's world. In addition, students are provided with opportunities to gain a deeper understanding of individual prejudices and develop personal and professional appreciation for human diversity.

LLS-465 (3 cr hrs) Engaging Ethical Reasoning
This seminar provides students with an opportunity to develop the Liberal Learning Skills through engaging ethical reasoning. Ethical decision-making frameworks and the impact of ethical issues within professional contexts are explored. In addition, students are provided with opportunities to design a personal model of ethical decision-making for application within various contexts.

LLS-475 (3 cr hrs) Exercising Effective Leadership
This seminar provides students with an opportunity to develop the Liberal Learning Skills through exercising effective leadership. Key theories and principles relative to the management/leadership continuum are examined as well as implications of current trends in leading self and others in a changing world.
Reflective Practice

EA-535, EA-536, EA-537, EA-538 (0.5 cr hrs each) Reflective Practice Sessions I, II, III & IV

Interspersed throughout the MAEA Program, participants meet (individually and/or with a small group of other graduate learners) with their Faculty Mentor to assess process, integrate learnings and engage in purposeful reflection in-and-on practice. Four elements of practice frame the objectives and activities of these Reflective Practice sessions: reflection, inquiry, flexibility/adaptability and decision-making.

Please visit http://snl.depaul.edu/graduateschool for more information about the MAEA Program, its learning components and admission/application processes. Additional information also exists in the MAEA Program Guidebook available from the SNL Graduate Programs Office.

Master of Science in Applied Technology (MSAT)

The Master of Science Program in Applied Technology (MSAT), founded in 1999, is designed for people who want to deepen their understanding and use of technology while enhancing their skills and knowledge for improving the interface between technology and humanity in organizational settings.

KEY FEATURES

1. You draw on the strengths of two of DePaul University's nine colleges: the School for New Learning (a leader in adult education) and the College of Computing and Digital Media (a leader in information technology).
2. You develop advanced and applied capabilities in one of the following areas of applied technology specialization:
   - Applied Information Systems
   - Applied Network Technology
   - Applied IT Project Management
   - Applied Information Technology
   - Applied Human Computer Interaction
3. You customize portions of your study by combining coursework with on-the-job applied learning projects.
4. You receive assistance from a team of advisors from the University and professional community who provide coaching and mentoring to ensure your success.
5. You engage in a brief/intensive series of liberal learning seminars designed to rekindle and/or deepen your practice in areas of inquiry, change, interpersonal communication, diversity, ethical reasoning and leadership.
6. You accomplish your goal of graduate study by enhancing your expertise in applying technology and earning an accredited graduate degree with competencies endorsed by the University.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

1. A minimum of 58 graduate credit hours completed with a cumulative GPA of not less than 3.0.
2. Successful completion of Planning & Integration coursework.
   - AT-598 Special Topics in Applied Technology I
   - AT-598 Special Topics in Applied Technology II
   - AT-598 Special Topics in Applied Technology III
   - AT-598 Special Topics in Applied Technology IV
3. Successful completion of Liberal Learning coursework.

   - LLS-435 Understanding Personal and Organizational Change
   - LLS-445 Improving Interpersonal Dynamics
   - LLS-455 Valuing Human Differences
   - LLS-465 Engaging Ethical Reasoning
   - LLS-475 Exercising Effective Leadership
   - Prerequisite coursework per specialization (if applicable and needed)
   - Foundational coursework per specialization
   - Advanced coursework per specialization
5. Successful completion of Independent Work-based Projects chosen from three areas below.
   - AT-519 Theories, Models, Ideas
   - AT-529 Methods of Research
   - AT-539 Specialized Skills
   - AT-549 Communication Modes
   - AT-559 Organizational/Interpersonal Dynamics
   - AT-569 Challenges from Larger Contexts
   - AT-579 Ethical Issues
   - AT-589 Reflection in/on Practice (required)

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS
Planning & Integration

AT-598 (1 cr hr each) Special Topics in Applied Technology I, II, III & IV
Interspersed throughout the MSAT Program, participants meet with other MSAT students to explore key topics of interest relevant to professionals in the applied technology world. These topic sessions provide opportunity to integrate technical knowledge with the liberal learning skills.

Certificates

The School for New Learning currently offers two certificates.

Certificate in Applied Leadership for Professionals

SNL awards a Certificate of Achievement in Applied Leadership for Professionals to graduate students who successfully complete the Liberal Learning portion (17-18 credit hours) per graduate program (MAAPS, MAEA, MSAT). This portion includes:

- LLS-425 Exploring Modes & Processes of Systematic Inquiry (or) EA-527 Finding & Managing Information
- LLS-435 Understanding Personal and Organizational Change
- LLS-445 Improving Interpersonal Dynamics
- LLS-455 Valuing Human Differences
- LLS-465 Engaging Ethical Reasoning
- LLS-475 Exercising Effective Leadership

Certificate in Educating Adults

SNL awards a Certificate of Achievement in Educating Adults to graduate students or non-degree-seeking professionals who successfully complete three core courses (12 credit hours) that relate directly to the effective design, implementation and assessment of learning programs in any setting. The three courses include:

- EA-516 Designing Educational Offerings
- EA-517 Facilitating Adult Learning
- EA-526 Assessing Learning & Evaluating Programs

Please visit http://snl.depaul.edu/graduateschool for more information about the Certificate in Educating Adults, its learning components and admission/application processes.
Admissions

Applying to SNL Graduate Programs & Certificates

As indicated, the following process and components apply to all of the School for New Learnings (SNL) graduate programs and certificates.

APPLICATION STEPS

Step 1: Basic Information.
Applicant becomes knowledgeable about a particular SNL graduate program/certificate. Various options are available for this purpose, e.g., materials, information sessions, advising appointments, etc. See SNL graduate programs website for details.

Step 2: Application and Required Materials.
Applicant submits required application materials including:

- a completed Application Form and Application Fee* (*The application fee is waived for DePaul alumni.);
- a current resume;
- an Application Essay* (writing sample) that addresses key questions pertinent to assessing the fit of the particular program to the student and vice versa (*Application Essay is waived for certificate applicants.); and,
- official, sealed transcripts documenting all prior college/university coursework including demonstration of a completed undergraduate degree from a regionally accredited institution.

NOTE: Standardized test scores are not required; however, applicants who have taken tests such as the GRE, GMAT, Miller Analogies, etc., within the previous three years are encouraged to submit their scores. International students are advised to consult the University Coordinator of International Admissions to learn of further University requirements that may apply.

Step 3: Interview.
Upon initial review of application materials, a representative of the SNL Graduate Admissions Committee invites qualified applicants to an admissions interview. The purpose of this interview is to enable both the particular program and the applicant to further ascertain the match or alignment between what the particular graduate program/certificate offers and what the applicant is seeking in terms of his/her graduate-learning or certificate-learning experience.

Step 4: Review.
Information gleaned from each applicant’s materials and interview is reviewed and assessed by the SNL Graduate Admissions Committee in accordance with the particular program’s admission considerations. See admissions considerations below.

Step 5: Decision.
An admission decision is rendered and communicated to the applicant in writing. As necessary, SNL Graduate Programs reserve the right to admit particular applicants conditionally. In such cases, the terms (conditions and timeline) of the conditional status are noted in the students acceptance letter. Failure to satisfactorily adhere to or fulfill these terms may result in academic dismissal/withdrawal from the particular program.

ADMISSION CONSIDERATIONS

The following areas are considered in making admission decisions:

- applicants reasoning in selection of the particular graduate program or certificate (including investigation of other graduate programs/certificates);
- applicants understanding of the particular SNL graduate program/certificate;
- applicants professional background including, for graduate program applicants, his/her possession of at least three years of experience, or equivalent, relevant to the particular SNL graduate least three years of experience, or equivalent, relevant to the particular SNL graduate/certificate program;

- applicants possession of a practice-site (worksites or relevant application setting in which to apply learning from the particular SNL graduate/certificate program);

- applicants educational goals/objectives and the congruence between those goals and the graduate/certificate program under consideration;

- applicants motivation to increase competence and ability to sustain effort to achieve such;

- applicants learning values and skills (willingness and ability to conduct self-managed/independent learning; participate positively in peer-group learning; engage in self-assessment; engage in reflection to increase understanding and improve practice; and, organize areas of knowledge and skill into themes and describe evidence in support of such);

- applicants cognitive/intellectual values and skills (willingness and ability to investigate prior to making claims; engage in curiosity leading to focused and sustained attention (analysis/synthesis) regarding a point of inquiry; investigate various knowledge sources (libraries, data bases, etc.); broaden perception by exploring multiple context(s) in which knowledge exists; analyze underlying assumptions and tolerate/explore ambiguity; discriminate information from opinion; form and adapt commitments amid various contexts; reflect on the meaning of discovery; and, develop and engage a breadth of interest across multiple disciplines);

- applicants communication values and skills (willingness and ability to express oneself in written and oral forms including appropriately documenting sources; decipher verbal and nonverbal messages; and, respond effectively);

- applicants psychosocial values and skills (willingness and ability to understand and manage emotions; function with autonomy and interdependence; tolerate and appreciate differences; build and sustain positive interpersonal relationships; develop and engage a sense of self in a social, historical, and cultural contexts; and, function with moral and ethical integrity);

- applicants access to, and ability to use, e-mail, the Internet, and necessary computer-based software; and,

- applicants undergraduate cumulative GPA. (For MSAT applicants, the required minimal undergraduate cumulative GPA is 2.5.)

NOTE: The School for New Learning/DePaul University considers students on the basis of individual merit and without regard to race, color, religion, gender, sexual orientation, age, national or ethnic origin, handicap, or other factors irrelevant to participation in its programs.

ADMISSION STATUS

Students are to matriculate in the quarter for which they are admitted. Students failing to do so (and who later wish to start) are responsible to update their admissions materials and, if necessary depending on changes to those materials, reapply. The Graduate Programs Office maintains an admission file/status for one year from the date of admission.

Earning a Second SNL Graduate Degree

Students/alumni from any SNL Graduate Program (MAAPS, MAEA or MSAT) wishing to apply to a second SNL graduate program must follow the admission process outlined for the second program. Upon acceptance, up to 15 credit hours for graduate liberal learning seminars (approximately 25% of degree requirements) completed within the first SNL graduate program may be applied (within ten years of their completion) to the second graduate program and, hence, waived as part of the second graduate programs requirements. All other degree components in the second graduate program must be fulfilled or, if already applied within a previous SNL graduate program, must be replaced with officially proposed and approved current substitutionsequential in credit hours and aligned with the second graduate programs focus. Waiver of any credit-hours/degree requirements into a third SNL graduate program is prohibited.
After three consecutive quarters of no registration (no credit hours or continuing activity status on the record), students are deemed INACTIVE and, therefore, discontinued by the University. Students wishing to reactivate after being discontinued for lack-of-registration reasons may do so by requesting reactivation through the SNL Graduate Programs Office at snlgrad@depaul.edu.

Students who have been discontinued for failure to fulfill conditions of admission, for academic/special review reasons and/or for failure to complete their graduate program/certificate within the six-year limit from point of admission must reapply and be readmitted. In such cases, readmission may require students to re-enroll and re-complete portions of their respective program/certificate.

Reapplication includes submitting updated application materials supplemented with a letter/essay addressing the reasons for degree-completion-delay and/or dismissal and addressing students current status and proposed plan forward (if re-admitted). Students wishing to reapply (and be readmitted) are advised to contact the SNL Graduate Office at snlgrad@depaul.edu for direction.

Students reactivating and/or readmitted after a period of absence are subject to University and program materials in effect at the time of reactivation/readmission and may be assigned to a new Faculty Mentor.
Introduction

In addition to the DePaul University Graduate Student Handbook, each of DePaul's schools and colleges provides a school/college-based student handbook including requirements, rules and regulations for its graduate programs. This School for New Learning Graduate Student Handbook is found here. Additional program information and regulations applicable to specific graduate programs can be found in each graduate programs Program Guidebook and specialized student resources. See http://snl.depaul.edu/StudentResources/Graduate_Resources/index.asp

All graduate students assume responsibility to know and meet both the general and particular regulations, procedures, policies and deadlines set forth in these materials. In addition, all graduate students are expected to adhere to the Student Code of Responsibility (available in the DePaul University Graduate Student Handbook), to follow the policies, procedures and regulations of the University, and to fulfill any particular stipulations which the School for New Learning Graduate Programs may have made in individual cases at the time of admission or, subsequently, through official action. Failure to do so may be grounds for dismissal from the applicable graduate program.

Upon admission to SNL's graduate programs, students are to follow all catalog requirements and official materials in effect at the time of entrance. Students who are readmitted or who change their program or enrollment status are subject to the terms of the catalog and official materials in effect at the time of readmission or status change.

While every effort is made to provide herein accurate and firm information, this handbook does not constitute a contract between the student and the University. The University reserves the right to revise the content of any of its handbooks and schedules and to change policies, programs, requirements, rules, regulations, procedures, calendars and schedule of tuition and fees; to establish and modify admission and registration criteria; to cancel or change courses or programs and their content and prerequisites; to limit and restrict enrollment; to cancel, divide or change time or location or staffing of classes; or to make any other necessary changes.

Academic & Enrollment Status

ACTIVE STATUS

Full-time & Part-time
Students are considered ACTIVE as long as they are registered each quarter for either credit hours or continuing activity status (see below). Graduate students enrolled for 8 or more credit hours are considered FULL-TIME. Those enrolled in 4-7 credit hours are considered HALF-TIME. Those registered for less than 4 credit hours are considered less than half-time.

All admitted graduate students who use the facilities of the University (library, laboratory, etc.) or who consult with faculty members regarding program components are to be registered each quarter.

CONTINUING ACTIVITY STATUS
Students who need to interrupt their programs of study for any reason should register for continuing activity status (CAS) during the quarter(s) of interruption. This is a minimal registration (nominal fee) which enables the student to maintain his/her ACTIVE STATUS during the interruption, and thereby maintain access to his/her Faculty Mentor, the DePaul libraries and computer laboratories, and DePaul Online.

DISCONTINUED STATUS
After three consecutive quarters of no registration (no credit hours or continuing activity status), students are deemed INACTIVE and, therefore, are discontinued by the University. Students wishing to reactivate after being discontinued for lack-of-registration reasons may do so by requesting reactivation through the SNL Graduate Programs Office at snlgrad@depaul.edu. Student reactivating after a period of no-registration are subject to the requirements and procedures of the program/certificate that are current at the time of reactivation.

SPECIAL REVIEW STATUS (Probation)
Students whose performance jeopardizes their satisfactory academic progress as outlined in program materials are subject to being placed on special review status by the Graduate Student Program Review Committee (GSPRC). See PROBATION (Special Review) & DISMISSAL.

WITHDRAWAL STATUS
Students wishing to withdraw from a graduate program are to inform the SNL Graduate Programs Office at snlgrad@depaul.edu and complete the withdrawal/leave of absence form in CampusConnect under Registration & Records.

Registration & Requirements

Quarterly Registration
Registration processes are announced in advance of each quarter. Graduate students who are deemed ACTIVE (see ACADEMIC STATUS) are notified of registration processes and quarterly deadlines via the Quarterly Registration Bulletin. For information regarding graduate Quarterly Registration Bulletin, contact SNL Graduate Programs Office at http://snl.depaul.edu/Courses/Graduate/index.asp.

Only admitted graduate students who are duly registered are permitted to attend SNL graduate classes.

Acceptable Grades
Grades of A through C are acceptable for registrations (courses or competencies) applied to SNL graduate programs. Grades of C- or lower require re-registering and re-completing course/competence. Pass/No Pass is only applicable to specified program components as explicitly designated within each graduate programs Curriculum Guidebook.

Transfer Coursework
Up to eight credit hours of graduate study may be transferred from other programs/universities in partial fulfillment of approved portions of SNL's graduate programs requirements. Such coursework must have received a grade of C or better, been from an regionally-accredited university, and been completed no longer than six years prior to SNL graduate degree conferral.

Cumulative GPA
SNL graduate programs require a cumulative GPA of no less than 3.0 at the point of graduation in order to complete the respective degree and enable degree conferral.

Six-Year Time Limit
All graduate degree requirements must be satisfied within six years commencing with the term of initial enrollment. Students who fail to complete their graduate program/certificate requirements within the six-year limit must reapply and be readmitted. In such cases, readmission may require students to re-enroll and re-complete portions of their respective program/certificate in order to ensure currency of the knowledge-base/skill-base. See ADMISSIONS Reactivation, Reapplication, Readmission.

Probation (Special Review) & Dismissal
Students whose performance jeopardizes their satisfactory academic progress as outlined in program materials are subject to being placed on special review status (academic probation) by the Graduate Student Program Review Committee (GSPRC). In such cases, the students Faculty Mentor develops a draft of the concerns and conditions for review. Upon GSPRC deliberation and decision, the GSPRC Chair prepares and distributes the special-review letter outlining issues/concerns as well as conditions/deadlines that need to be met for Special Review Status to be lifted. The Faculty Mentor monitors the students progress in meeting the conditions of the special review/probation. Failure to comply with any of the terms of special review will result in academic dismissal from the applicable graduate program.

Students receiving financial aid whose cumulative GPA falls below 2.0 are automatically placed on financial aid probation and are expected to improve their GPA in subsequent quarters keeping in mind that a minimum 3.0 cumulative GPA is required for graduation at the graduate-level. For information regarding financial aid probation, see http://depaul.edu/admission/FinancialAid/International/MaintainingEligibility/SAP.asp.

A student who has been dismissed for academic/special-review reasons may, after a period of time not less than two quarters, reapply for readmission. See ADMISSIONS Reactivation, Reapplication, Readmission.

Graduation

MEETING DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Students must successfully complete all of the general and specific degree requirements as listed in the program section of the catalog (See GRADUATE PROGRAMS & COURSES.) and/or the applicable SNL Graduate Program Guidebook MAAPS Program Guidebook, MAEA Program Guidebook, MSAT Program Guidebook. All requirements must be completed by the grading deadline of the degree conferral quarter.

GRADUATION STEPS

A detailed list of Graduation Steps is provided for all SNL graduating graduate students. This can be found at: http://snl.depaul.edu/WebMedia/StudentResources/10graduation.pdf.

DEGREE CONFERRAL

Applying for degree conferral requires the anticipated completion of all program components in accordance with all program requirements by the stated deadline. Submitting the on-line degree conferral application does not guarantee the conferral (granting) of a degree from DePaul University. Degree requirements are reviewed at the end of the expected completion term indicated.

Failure to have components and requirements in place by the end of degree conferral term will prompt the Graduate Office to deny degree conferral. Students wishing to postpone degree conferral or who are ineligible to graduate must reapply for degree conferral during a later term.

All conferred degrees will be finalized within 30 days of the end of the term. Diplomas are mailed to graduates without financial holds, by the Student Records Office, generally within 45-60 days after the end of the term.

DePaul reports degree information to the National Student Clearinghouse monthly for those graduating students who have set (before the end of the completion term) their Privacy Settings in Campus Connect to indicate this as releasable information. Many companies and agencies use this service to verify awarded degrees.

DEADLINES FOR DEGREE CONFERRAL AND COMMENCEMENT PARTICIPATION

The University confers graduate degrees four times per year after the autumn, winter, spring, and summer terms. The deadlines for applying for degree conferral are posted on the Student Records website at: http://sr.depaul.edu/General/FAQs/DegreeConferral.asp. The deadline for applying for the June commencement ceremony is February 1 of that academic year.

COMMENCEMENT

The graduation ceremony is symbolic. It is held in June of each year.
Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities

This Code incorporates and extends the Code of Student Responsibility within both the DePaul University Graduate Student Handbook and Undergraduate Student Handbook, and is in force and applicable for all matriculated School for New Learning students. The Code further incorporates and extends existing student responsibility and conduct codes currently in force for online students (http://www.snlonline.depaul.edu/documents/snlonlineStudentCodeOfConductDraft%205.30.09.pdf) and graduate students (http://snl.depaul.edu/msat/advising/responsibilities.asp) at SNL.

On Being a Member of a Learning Community

All active DePaul University School for New Learning students have the right to participate as voluntary members of an academic community engaged in the pursuit of knowledge and skill critical to personhood, work and the professions, and human welfare. As voluntary members of DePaul University, a not-for-profit, private institution of higher education, all students accept the guiding authority of academic advisors and faculty members, and the policies and procedures supporting the degree programs in which they are enrolled.

Students have the right to speak with faculty and administration regarding specific policies, requirements, practices, or difficulties that may arise during their period of active study. When a student initiates clarifying dialogue around one or more of these items, she or he is responsible for conducting all communication in a respectful and professional manner. Email, voice, and face-to-face interaction must be precise, and focus on specific questions or complaints presented with supportive evidence and argument. All parties, including the student, will approach the problem in the spirit of dialogue and with a commitment to a fair, clear, and timely resolution.

Unprofessional and other forms of aggressive or uncongenial behavior and communication, in or out of the classroom, will not be tolerated in the learning community of the School. A student who willfully exhibits behavior inconsistent with this Code and related behavioral policies (see above) will be referred to an associate dean and/or the University Dean of Students Office.

Any active student with a question, comment, or grievance regarding his or her participation in the SNL learning community must contact the Associate Dean on Call for that term. Please call the SNL Reception Staff at 312/362-8001 for assistance with this.

Additional Policies & Procedures

The School for New Learning provides additional policies, program information and regulations applicable to each of its specific graduate programs within each graduate programs Program Guidebook (MAAPS Program Guidebook, MAEA Program Guidebook, MSAT Program Guidebook) and specialized student resources. See http://snl.depaul.edu/StudentResources/Graduate_Resources/index.asp.

The Vincentian Character of DePaul University

DePaul, a Catholic university, takes its name from St. Vincent dePaul. The religious community founded by Vincent, commonly known as Vincentians, opened the university and endowed it with a distinctive spirit: to foster in higher education a deep respect for the God-given dignity of all persons, especially the materially, culturally, and spiritually deprived; to instill in educated persons a dedication to the service of others. In each succeeding generation the women and men of DePaul have pursued learning in this spirit of Vincent dePaul.
