General Information about DePaul University

PURPOSE

DePaul University is founded on Judaic-Christian principles and continues to assert the contemporaneous relevance of these principles to higher education and the modern world. The University will express these principles especially by passing on the heritage of St. Vincent de Paul, which has as its purpose the perfection of the individual person through purposeful involvement with other persons, communities, and institutions.

The faculty, students, and administrators are mutually committed to the examination of truth for its intrinsic value, for the meaningful direction it provides for the person, and for its force in the continuum of civilization.

AIMS

1. to acquire, disseminate, and advance knowledge; to develop scholarly habits of mind; to foster greater understanding of the interrelationships of knowledge.
2. to pursue and direct learning that provides for a moral and aesthetic life, for a dedication to the service of other persons, and for responsible involvement in various communities and other institutions.
3. to engage in liberal and professional studies, and through cooperation with other agencies and persons, to marshal its resources so as to assist persons and the community in the life-long educational endeavors that are in harmony with the purpose and dignity of human living.

HISTORICAL SKETCH

DePaul University is in the midst of one of the most important periods of growth since its origin in 1898. In 1963 the University began its ten-year $29.5 million "Program for Greatness," designed to improve and double its physical facilities, and to add similar strength to its academic resources.

It is difficult to realize, when standing in the shadow of the magnificent new $4.5 million Arthur J. Schnitt Center, that the Lincoln Park Campus was once referred to as "Father Smith's Farm". This was the nickname affectionately given to five acres of truck gardens and corn fields in the vicinity of Webster and Sheffield Avenues which the Rev. Edward M. Smith, C.M. purchased in the summer of 1875. It was here that Father Smith established St. Vincent's Parish with a building that was a combination church, school, and rectory.

Approximately twenty years later, Archbishop Feehan suggested that the Congregation of the Mission — the Vincentian Fathers — begin a college for men in Chicago. St. Vincent's College, with a student body of seventy-two and a faculty of ten, opened its doors on September 5, 1896 in the original building at the southwest corner of "Father Smith's Farm."

Seeing the need for a Catholic institution of higher learning with an expanded curriculum, a curriculum which "... must be made up of prescribed studies and elective studies," Father Peter V. Byrne, C.M., first president of St. Vincent's College, decided in 1907, after consulting with faculty and trustees, that the college should be developed into a university. On December 24, 1907, the State of Illinois issued a charter to De Paul University, the first Catholic university in the state and the first in the nation to introduce a modified elective system to supplant the rigid curricula then in vogue.

The growth of DePaul and, paradoxically, its growing youthfulness are mirrored in the lists of its graduates from the first class of two young men to the current records of more than 32,000 recipients of undergraduate and graduate degrees. More than half of this number have earned their degrees since 1950, indicating a young and vigorous body of alumni.

From its origin as a small liberal arts college for men the University has matured and widened its scope to embrace seven major divisions with nearly 10,000 men and women enrolled in day and evening programs on two campuses.

Continuing its role as leader and innovator, DePaul in 1966 undertook the final steps toward a challenging curriculum revision which has as its cornerstone the establishment of The DePaul College, a new university-wide, undergraduate division — the result of six years of planning.

In its vigorous pursuit of knowledge and its commitment to the transcendental dignity of the human person, DePaul continues the heritage of a humble Frenchman from whom the University inherits its name. St. Vincent de Paul founded the Congregation of the Mission in 1625 in Paris, and bequeathed to it a tradition of dedicated service to meet the spiritual, intellectual and corporal needs of his fellow men. The spiritual descendants of St. Vincent, the Vincentian Fathers of the Western Province, established and still direct DePaul University.

ADMINISTRATION

The corporation of DePaul University is chartered by the State of Illinois. The University enjoys the usual privileges of institutions recognized by law, and is specifically empowered "to provide, import, and furnish opportunities for higher education to persons of both sexes on equal terms in those branches of education which may properly be included within the purposes and objectives of the University." (Articles of Incorporation).

The Board of Trustees consists of 42 members who serve as the corporate head of DePaul University charged under its Charter to control and manage educational, fiscal, and all other affairs of the corporation.

The President is the chief executive officer of the University, responsible to the Board of Directors for carrying out policies and programs. He is a member of each faculty, and has general supervisory control over every academic and administrative unit of the University. The President is empowered to appoint faculty and administrative officers not directly appointed by the Board of Directors.

The Chancellor coordinates the agencies and activities related to the public relation and development operations of the University.

The Executive Vice-President — Dean of Faculties is next to the President. Chief executive of the University, and is entitled to act for the President in his absence. As Dean of Faculties, he supervises all academic operations.

The Treasurer is the chief financial officer of the University, collecting all monies and receiving all funds, paying all approved bills, and, under the direction of the President and with the approval of the Board of Trustees, exercising responsibility for all University investments.

The Dean of the college is the administrator in all matters pertaining to the educational conduct of his College. Solicitations of privileges in scholastic matters as well as complaints should be made to him and matters of doubt should be referred to his judgment.

ORGANIZATION

By reason of its charter the University is authorized to offer programs of study in “literature, law, medicine, music, technology, the various branches of science, both abstract and applied, the cultivation of the fine arts, and all other branches of professional and technical education which may properly be included within the purposes and objectives of the University.” The programs of study offered in accord with DePaul's objectives are organized under the following administrative units:

The School of Music also cooperates with the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and with University College in offering a curriculum leading to the Bachelor of Arts in Music.

The Graduate School (formally organized in 1928, though graduate study had been offered by the University previously) has its administrative offices in the Lewis Center; it offers graduate study at both the Lewis Center and the Lincoln Park Campus leading to the degrees: Master of Arts, Master of Science, Master of Business Administration, Master of Education, Master of Music, Master of Science in Nursing. The Graduate School is planning doctoral studies.

The University College (formally organized in 1928, though evening programs of study had been offered previously by the University), located at the Lewis Center, offers studies in the late afternoon, evening, and Saturday morning. This College has curriculum leading to the degrees: Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Philosophy,

The De Paul College (1967), offers the programs in general education which are an integral part of all undergraduate degrees at the University. This College operates at both the Lewis Center and the Lincoln Park Campus.

THE LINCOLN PARK CAMPUS

The Lincoln Park Campus of DePaul University is located in a residential area on the near North side of Chicago, approximately four miles from the Loop or center of Chicago. The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences conducts all of its operations on this Campus. The Graduate School, School of Education and DePaul College conduct some of their operations in that location.

The principal buildings on this campus are:

- Arthur J. Schmitt Academic Center, a five-story structure completed in 1967 containing library, classrooms, faculty and administrative offices;
- Liberal Arts Building, four stories of classrooms and academic offices;
- Hall of Science (East), also four stories accommodating the departments of biological sciences and chemistry;
- Hall of Science (West), a single-floor building housing the department of physics and experimental laboratories of the department of psychology;
- Alumni Hall, a tri-level structure containing an auditorium-gymnasium seating 5,240, classrooms, cafeteria, lounges, swimming pool, and other exercise rooms that serve recreational purposes and programs in physical education.

Other buildings on this campus include: the University Church of St. Vincent de Paul, residence hall for the priest faculty, the old auditorium, old library building, and numerous apartment buildings that serve as residences for faculty and for various University offices.

The Lincoln Park Campus is the chief target of the University's plan for physical development. Through the $22.5 million "Program for Greatness" that will continue to the University's 75th anniversary in 1973, this campus will add more than ten acres to its area and will accommodate five more new buildings: a student union, an auditorium-performing arts center, another hall of science, a student residence for men and one for women.
THE FRANK J. LEWIS DOWNTOWN CENTER

The Frank J. Lewis Center is a 17-floor building, conveniently located in Chicago's Loop on the southwest corner of Jackson Boulevard and Wabash Avenue. It contains the offices of the University's general administration, classrooms, libraries, offices, chapel, 500-seat theatre, cafeteria, and lounges. The College of Commerce, College of Law, School of Music, and University College are located in the Lewis Center. Some of the operations of the Graduate School, School of Education, and DePaul College are conducted in this building.

THE UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES

The combined library facilities of DePaul University in 1966 include over a quarter of a million volumes and more than fifteen hundred periodical subscriptions with an average annual increase of almost twelve thousand volumes.

The Lewis Center library services include the Law Library on the seventh floor and the general library on two floors, the second and the third, with an annex on the basement level. The law library contains in excess of 60,000 volumes.

The Lincoln Park Campus is served by library facilities on the third and fourth floors of the Academic Center, opened in 1967, with a Reserve Reading Room on the plaza floor. A special library handbook for faculty members is available in any of the libraries, giving full information on the policies, procedures and services of the library system.

Microfilm and micro-card readers as well as a collection of films and cards are available in the library. Reproduction facilities are also provided to faculty members.

Other academic and special libraries in the Chicago area make many special collections available to our faculty.
The coat of arms of DePaul University has the following symbolic significance:

The main section of the field, consisting of a series of nine checky panes (a distinctly French charge), forms one of the hundreds of heraldic crosses and is used in this instance as a representation of the cross of the Catholic faith. In the center pane is the heart, symbolic of charity for St. Vincent de Paul, the titular of the University. By his heroic lifetime of service to God and humanity and his establishment of the Congregation of the Mission (the Vincentian Fathers who administer DePaul) and the Daughters of Charity, St. Vincent de Paul has become the international symbol of charity. The pane above the heart is charged with a crescent, the symbol of Mary under the title of the Immaculate Conception, under which she is patroness of the United States.

The chief (upper compartment) is devoted to the coat of arms of Modern France, the Country of St. Vincent de Paul, with its three fleurs-de-lis honoring the Triune God. The embattled sites of partition at the base of the chief, the heraldic equivalent of a fort, betoken Fort Dearborn, established by the United States on the site of Chicago — just a short distance from the present downtown DePaul center. The phoenix on the crest, the symbol of immortality of the Resurrection, is derived from the site of the city of Chicago, whereon it betokens the resurrection of Chicago after the great fire.

The motto of DePaul University, Viam Sapientiae Monstrabo Tibi (Proverbs iv, 11), is translated "I will show you the way to wisdom."
The College of Law

PURPOSE

The College of Law has the objective of affording to the capable student adequate training in the fundamentals of law to guide him in the formation of sound moral and intellectual concepts; to develop an understanding and appreciation of the law in relation to the natural moral order and of its philosophical, social, political, and economic implications. The curriculum is designed to prepare the graduate to function ably in the legal profession and to serve as a foundation for his cultural and professional development beyond the academic period. The College also has the objective of making a contribution to general community welfare by aiding the continued professional development of those who are already admitted to the bar, by means of institutes and seminars and by actively fostering research and publication with a view to law improvement.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

A student is eligible for admission to the College of Law if he has completed at least 3/4ths of the work acceptable for a Bachelors Degree in an approved college or university, with a scholastic average, based on all work undertaken, at least equal to the quality of work required for graduation in the institutions attended.

Law School Admission Test

Each applicant is required to take the Law School Admissions Test. The test is administered by the Educational Testing Service, Box 944, Princeton, New Jersey 08540 at convenient centers throughout the country. The 1970-71 test calendar is as follows:

October 17, 1970
December 19, 1970
February 13, 1971
April 17, 1971
July 31, 1971

Arrangements to take the Law School Admissions Test must be made directly with the Educational Testing Service. The test should be taken as early as possible during the year preceding the one for which admission is sought.

Currently, a base score of 525 on the Law School Aptitude Test and 2.5 for undergraduate (out of a possible 4.0) is required for admission to the College of Law. There may be a weighing where an applicant falls below the minimum in one and is above the minimum in the other. Also, such factors as class rank and exceptionally good grades for a year in important subjects may be considered in determining whether an applicant has the potential for successfully completing his law school courses.

General Information

Application for admission shall be made on a printed form available at the Office of the College of Law. Applications received after July 1 have little chance of being considered for the fall semester. Students are admitted to the College of Law in September of each year.

DePaul University is an approved institution for veterans' training. The veteran who wishes to enter the University should communicate with the Veterans' Coordinator, 25 East Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, Illinois 60604.

An applicant for admission from an institution located in a foreign country must present an original, official, and complete transcript and translation thereof of credits from the institution he attended. If these credits indicate satisfactory preparation for entrance into the College of Law, matriculation will be granted upon the recommendation of the Committee on Admissions and Degrees. In general, no advanced credit will be granted for law work completed in a foreign institution. Each application will be treated individually by the Dean.

DePaul University is a Catholic institution. Non-Catholic students are welcomed and are, of course, accorded all the privileges of the student body.

Specific Requirements for Admission

In order to be considered for admission, each applicant must proceed as follows:

(1) Each applicant must submit to the College of Law, 25 East Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, Illinois 60604, a formal application for admission to the Law School, accompanied by a non-refundable application fee. (2) The applicant should register with the Law School Data Assembly Service (LSDAS) by completing and mailing the registration form supplied with each Law School application blank. A transcript from each college or university attended (including professional schools) should then be sent, not to the DePaul College of Law, but directly to:

LSDAS
Educational Testing Service
Box 944
Princeton, New Jersey 08540

The LSDAS will analyze the transcript and send a copy to the DePaul College of
DEPAUL UNIVERSITY

Law and any other participating law school the applicant designates on the registration form. If the applicant is accepted by the DePaul College of Law, he will be asked to submit to this law school a final transcript for any college work not completed at the time of submitting his registration form for LSDAS. Before that time, additional transcripts should be submitted only in response to a special request from this school.

(3) The applicant should direct that an official copy of the Law School Admission Test score be submitted to the DePaul College of Law.

Upon receiving notice of acceptance, the applicant is required to make a deposit of $50 within the time stated in the notice. Unless this deposit is made, the acceptance will be cancelled in order that the place may be given to another applicant. The deposit is applied against tuition for the first semester of the first year. If the applicant does not enroll, the deposit is not refunded.

ADVANCED STANDING

A student wishing to be admitted to advanced standing in the College of Law must produce certificates showing 1) graduation from high school or its equivalent, followed by 2) the completion of the pre-legal work required for entrance to De Paul University College of Law as a beginning law student, together with the average required from such beginning student. The law work for which such student is asking advanced standing must have been completed in a law school which is a member of the Association of American Law Schools or on the approved list of the American Bar Association. A certificate showing the completion of such law work must be presented from the law school in which the work was taken, together with a statement from such law school that the applicant is in good standing. No student will be admitted from another law school unless he is eligible to continue the study of law at that school in good standing and without condition or qualification of any kind. His law record must be such as to indicate that he will be able to complete successfully work in the College of Law.

SUMMER SESSIONS

The College of Law conducts Summer Sessions in the Evening Division for students who have had two or more semesters of law study. Beginning students will not be admitted to the Summer Sessions. Detailed information is available in the spring.

CLASSIFICATION OF STUDENTS

Upon admission, a student is registered as either:

REGULAR—One who has met fully the entrance requirements of the College of Law, or

STUDENT-AT-LARGE—One who is attending the College of Law on permit from another accredited law school.

For administrative purposes not related to admission, a student is classified according to progress toward graduation as follows:

DAY DIVISION

FRESHMAN—One who has completed less than 27 semester hours.
JUNIOR—One who has completed 27 but less than 54 semester hours.
SENIOR—One who has completed 54 or more semester hours.

EVENING DIVISION

FRESHMAN—One who has completed less than 20 semester hours.
SOPHOMORE—One who has completed 20 but less than 40 semester hours.
JUNIOR—One who has completed 40 but less than 60 semester hours.
SENIOR—One who has completed 60 or more semester hours.

REGULATIONS GOVERNING REGISTRATION

1. Each student is required to register in person during the regular registration dates as set out in the calendar. (Note: A Late Registration Fee will be charged.)

2. No student can receive credit for any subject taken in a class for which he has not been duly registered.
3. A student who would enroll for fewer than twelve hours or more than fifteen hours in the Day Division or for fewer than ten hours in the Evening Division must obtain the permission of the Dean.
4. In order to register in another college of the University, the student enrolled in the College of Law must have the permission of the Dean of the College of Law and also of the Dean of the other college of the University.
5. The right is reserved to cancel any course.

GENERAL INFORMATION

THE DURATION OF YOUR LAW STUDY

When you enter the College of Law you are commencing professional study, and you will find it more demanding of time and effort than your pre-law work. The length of time it will take you to complete the law course will depend upon the amount of time you are able to devote to it and not to the time of day when you attend classes.

If you are able to devote your full time to your law study, you may complete the course in the Day Division in six semesters, but if you are required to be employed more than twenty hours per week, then you have two alternatives:

a) Enroll in the Day Division, carry less than a full program, and complete the course in eight semesters;

b) Enroll in the Evening Division, carry the normal Evening program, and complete the course in eight semesters and a Summer Session.

Each Day Division student, when registering, will be asked to state the amount of his outside employment, if any. If it exceeds twenty hours per week, the student will be expected and required to carry the lighter program.

A day division student shall not be permitted to enroll for courses in the evening division.

ATTENDANCE AT CLASS

A student must regularly attend all classes in each course. Exceptions to this rule must have the written permission of the Dean.

Excessive absences may, in the dean's discretion, result in a student being withdrawn.

WITHDRAWALS

Any change of initial registration, including withdrawal from a course, may be permitted only upon obtaining written permission of the dean.

EXAMINATIONS

Examinations are given at the end of each semester. In general, the examinations are made up of hypothetical problems and the student is graded on the basis of his ability to recognize the problem or problems and to apply the correct rule of law to the solution of the problem or problems.

The following rules apply to final examinations.

If a student, other than a senior, fails to take a final examination for any reason, he shall not be given a special (i.e. private) examination. In such case the student may, prior to the end of the following semester, petition the Committee on Admissions and Degrees for permission to take a deferred examination. i.e., take the next regular examination given in the course.

When a student fails to take a regular examination a grade of Incomplete for the course is entered on the student's record. In the event the student does not petition the Committee on Admissions and Degrees within the allotted time, or does not receive Committee permission to take a deferred examination or fails to take the examination as permitted by the Committee, the grade of incomplete is automatically reduced to a grade of F.

The writing of a special examination is optional with the professor when a student has two examinations on the same day, unless the same professor teaches the same course in another section.
DE PAUL UNIVERSITY

A senior who cannot take the next regular examination before graduation may be given a special examination if his failure to appear at the regular examination is excused by the Committee on Admissions and Degrees.

GRADES

The system of grading is numerical: 93-100. equals A; 84-92, B; 75-83, C; 70-74, D; below 70, F. The passing grade is 70. No make-up examination is given to a student receiving a mark below 70 in any subject. Grades released by post card by the individual instructor are not the official grades.

TRANSCRIPT OF CREDITS

Students wishing transcripts of credits for any purpose should request them at least a week in advance of the time needed. Request for transcripts must be presented to the Registrar's Office in writing. Requests will not be taken over the phone. The Record's Office cannot guarantee to fulfill requests made during the registration period.

Transcripts of credits are sent directly to the institution designated by the student.

Official transcripts of credit earned at other institutions are a part of the student's permanent record at DePaul University and are not reissued or copied for distribution. If needed, they must be obtained directly from the institution in question.

Transcripts will be issued only after the student has fulfilled all his financial obligations to the University.

DISMISSAL

A student will be dismissed if he fails in two or more courses in one semester, or if he does not attain an average of 77 for each of his scholastic years.

READEMISSION AFTER DISMISSAL

A student may, if he is dismissed for poor scholarship, file a written petition for readmission with the Chairman of the Committee on Admissions and Degrees. The petition should set forth evidence of ability to complete his courses successfully if readmitted, reasons for previous failure to meet the academic requirements, and elimination of the reasons. The Committee will review the student's entire file including his petition, his initial application to law school, and his undergraduate and law school records. If the Committee concludes that the circumstances for the petitioner's failure were beyond his control and no longer exist and that he has the potential for successful completion of his law school studies, his application for readmission will be granted. A student who has been readmitted must maintain an "80" average for each of his next two semesters unless it is his last semester in school, in which event, he may be graduated if during his last semester he has maintained a "77" average and otherwise met the academic requirements. If a student is dismissed because of his grades in his first year in the College of Law, the Committee may readmit him to start over as a new student.

CREDITS

In the College of Law credits are indicated in terms of semester hours. A semester hour of credit indicates the completion of work for one hour per week for a semester, which ranges from fifteen to eighteen weeks.

PLAN OF CONDUCTING COURSES

The College of Law has two divisions—Day and Evening. The complete curriculum is offered in each division, and in each division the books, methods of instruction, entrance and graduation requirements are the same.

The classes in the Day Division are conducted from 9:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Monday to Friday, inclusive. In the Evening Division, all classes are held on four evenings—Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday—of each week from 6:00 to 8:10 p.m.

A Day Division student who is employed more than twenty hours per week will not be permitted to carry a full program, but instead will be required to carry a lighter load and to attend in the Day Division for eight semesters.

A Day Division student will not be permitted to take courses in the Evening Division.

The curriculum of the College of Law is designed to prepare the student for admission to the Bar of any State.
LAW LIBRARY

The College of Law maintains its own library and reading room, open to students and alumni from 8:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. The library contains over sixty thousand volumes and affords opportunity for extensive collateral reading and research. The Farthing Collection of Illinois Session Laws and Statutes, a gift of Paul Farthing, former Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Illinois, and his brother, Chester H. Farthing, is of special interest. The Nathan Schwartz collection of Letters and Documents of the United States Supreme Court Justices is also of special interest.

Students in the College of Law have access to all De Paul University libraries.

DE PAUL LAW REVIEW

To encourage and stimulate legal writing and disciplined research, the College of Law publishes the De Paul Law Review four times per year. Established in 1950, the Review is a student edited legal journal of national stature. Lead articles, written by respected members of the legal profession, are featured. In addition, under the tutelage of the law faculty and the Board of Editors, students of high scholastic standing contribute notes and comments on recent legal developments. Those students who have attained an average of 84 or above are eligible to enter the case note competition for membership on the staff of the Review. In addition there is a written competition for those with an average under 84. Staff members, who demonstrate excellence, are eligible for election to the Board of Editors. Membership on the Board of Editors represents the highest in academic distinction and responsibility. A full tuition grant is given to each of the Board members.

A student wishing to withdraw from a class or classes must report to the academic office and fill out a withdrawal slip, stating the reasons which make withdrawal necessary. Failure to officially withdraw by filling out a withdrawal slip will result in loss or reduction of tuition adjustment.

Exception: If a student must withdraw for failure to meet scholastic requirements during a previous term and the academic office has been unable to notify him of his failure prior to the beginning of the current term, tuition or fees will not be charged for this cancelled registration.

Students who withdraw from all courses in good standing may be readmitted subject to regulations in force when they re-enter.

Academic Degrees

By arrangement with the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and the College of Commerce, credit for work completed in the College of Law may apply, on the elective groups of study, toward a degree conferred by those colleges. Information concerning the amount of law credit allowed under this plan and other requirements as to earning the academic degree may be obtained from the above-mentioned Colleges.

Graduation With Honors

Upon approval by the De Paul University Council, a degree cum laude may be conferred upon a student whose average for the entire course is from 90 to 92, and a degree summa cum laude may be conferred upon a student whose average for the entire course is 92 or higher.

Student Activities

Honor Societies. The following national honor societies have established chapters at De Paul University: Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honor society, to which a limited number of students of high scholastic standing are elected annually; Blue Key Honor Society, national honor society, to which students are elected annually on the basis of good scholarship and leadership in University activities. Students in the College of Law are eligible to become members of these honor societies.

De Paul Student Bar Association. The De Paul Student Bar Association is an organization open to all law students. The association is affiliated with the American Law Students Association, which in turn is a branch of the American Bar Association. It is composed of all law schools in the United States having Student Bar Associations—over 80 at the present time.

Some of the activities of the Student Bar Association are the conduct of social functions; assignment of outstanding speakers for meetings of the association; conduct of orientation exercises for new freshmen law students; taking part in legal aid work; and cooperation with the administration of the College of Law.

Moot Court. At De Paul University College of Law Appellate Moot Court is included in the curriculum. The Moot Court Program is designed to give students actual experience in legal research, in the preparation of briefs and in oral argument. The Law School also participates in the National Inter-Law School Moot Court competition sponsored each year by the Association of the Bar of the City of New York and the International Law Moot Court competition sponsored by the American Society of International Law.

John J. Meehan Memorial Society. The John J. Meehan Memorial Society is an organization of law students formed to perpetuate the memory of the late John J. Meehan, who served as law librarian for a number of years. The principal objective of this organization is to encourage legal research. All students in the College of Law are eligible to membership in this society without payment of dues.
LAW FRATERNITIES AND SORORITIES. The following law fraternities now have active chapters at De Paul University College of Law: Delta Theta Phi, Nu Beta Epsilon, and Phi Alpha Delta. Chapters of the following law fraternities are not at present active: Gamma Era Gamma and Sigma Delta Kappa. One law sorority, Kappa Beta Pi, is active and one is inactive, Delta Omicron Delta.

LAW WIVES CLUB. De Paul University College of Law endorses membership in the Law Wives Club. All wives of law students are eligible for membership. The club sponsors and supports many of the law school's activities.

LOANS

There are three loan programs available to students:

A. National Defense Loan Program

This program is co-sponsored by the Federal Government and De Paul University. A Law School student may borrow up to $2500 each academic year to a total not exceeding $10,000 for both his undergraduate and graduate years. The exact amount depends on an evaluation of his financial need.

The repayment period (up to 10 years) and the interest (3%) do not begin until 9 months after the student is no longer enrolled at least half-time. If a borrower becomes a full-time teacher (or administrator) in an elementary or secondary school or in an institution of higher education, a substantial part of the loan may be forgiven at the rate of 10 or 15 percent for each year of service, the higher rate being reserved for those who are located at schools in officially approved poverty areas.

B. Illinois State Guaranteed Loan Program

This is essentially a program for full-time students from middle and upper income families who wish to defray payment of college expenses over a period of time. They must be bona fide residents of Illinois.

Law School students may borrow a minimum of $300 to a maximum of $1500 each year depending on their college expenses. The rate of interest is 7% simple interest. However, the federal government will pay the interest while the student is in school provided the adjusted gross income of the family is less than $15,000 per year. Payments of $30.00 minimum begin 9 months after cessation of full-time study and the entire loan must be repaid within 6 years from this date.

Application Procedure for All Loan Programs

Contact the University’s Office of Financial Aids and Placement in Room 1730 at 25 E. Jackson Blvd., Chicago, Illinois, 60604.
EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

College Work Study Program

Full-time students who can demonstrate financial need may apply for part-time and/or summer employment under this program which is co-sponsored by the Federal Government and De Paul University. Students may work (mostly on campus) up to 15 hours weekly while attending classes and up to 40 hours weekly when no classes are scheduled. The basic pay range is from $2.00 to $3.00 per hour for Law School students depending on the job classification. The student must remain in good standing academically and his earnings cannot exceed his need. Application should be made to the University’s Office of Financial Aids and Placement at 25 E. Jackson Blvd., Chicago, Illinois, 60604.

Other Part-time Employment

Part-time and summer jobs both on and off campus are available for students. Rates of pay for Law School students are from $2.00 to $3.00 or more per hour. The location of the University in a metropolitan area contributes greatly to the number and variety of opportunities for employment. In addition, the University itself can offer positions to students. After students have registered for their classes, the Placement Office of the College of Law will assist them in finding jobs. No proof of need is necessary to qualify for this service.

PLACEMENT OFFICE OF THE COLLEGE OF LAW

The College of Law maintains a placement office staffed by a placement director and a placement secretary. It is located on the 7th floor of Lewis Center.

Law school seniors seeking full-time employment to begin after graduation, law alumni desiring employment, and law students seeking part-time employment should communicate with this office.

HOUSING

The University operates student residences on its Lincoln Park Campus, where information on living accommodations may be obtained from the Director of Housing. A list of available off-campus apartments and rooms may also be examined in the office of the Director of Housing.
